Abstract

The main objectives of this article to present an outline of general framework of Islamic economics in the light of just two ayah of Quran that is, Sura -e-Jumma .

This article shows a ray of hope of economics problems, because the socialism and capitalism are not so promising. Islam casts a comprehensive look on the human economics problems therefore Islam requires man to maintain a balance between his love for and abstinence from material things.

Moreover two issues have been highlighted that is, Islam demands for every person to develop their economics, and the second one is that this article is based on the conclusion that from the word 'Ziker' in the mentioned verse does not mean only typical lingual zikr or the remembrance of Allah with its praises but it has a very broad meaning in terms of dealing with other people in businesses and financial agreements or negotiation, which must be free of wrong statements, deceptions etc.

Key words: economics, Islam, ziker, material things
