

Concept of economy in the views of Ibn-e-Khaldun, a great Muslim thinker

* Dr. Muhammad Ayaz Khan¹

Rais Gul²

Abstract:

Ibn-e-Khaldun, Abu Zaid Abd-Al-Rehman is renowned political tinker and historian. His contribution to the political philosophy, economy and history is a land mark. He is the one who give new dimensions to the concept of Islamic economy. He travelled many empires of the time and served over there on different positions. At the end of the day he compiles his famous work as “moqqaddama” which is consider as treasure. This paper is an attempt to highlight the services of Ibn-e-Khaldun and especially to the field of economy. To achieve the desired objective descriptive and empirical methodology is adopted. This research concludes that he contributed in bulk to the concept of Islamic economy.

Key words: Ibn-e-, social, economy, politics, Moqqadama, History.

Introduction:

¹ HOD Assistant Professor Department of Political Science Hazara University Mansehra

² Lecturer in Sociology Islamia College University Peshawar
